OFFICE TALK

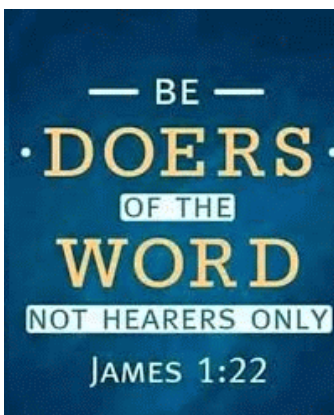

This month we are looking at God's will of command. God gave us His word to show us His character, to direct us towards truth and to teach us His will for our lives. It is an amazing story of redemption and His providence in the lives of his people.

The verse we are looking at for the month of December is James 1:22, "Do not merely listen to the word and so deceive yourself. Do what it says". Reading God's word is necessary and a command for us to do as Christians. However, that is only half of the battle. We must also apply the word to our lives. We are teaching our students that it is God's will for us to obey His word and to keep His commands. Obedience is not always easy and following rules and regulations often conflict with our fleshly desires. God's commands are, not only necessary, but essential in living a full life in Him.

This verse reminds me of the song the kindergarten class sings. One line from the song says "read your bible, pray every day and you'll grow". This statement, though simple, is powerful and true. Be sure to read His word daily!
